NEWS & VIEWS

July 2011

MAYOR'S CORNER

I hope you had a happy and safe Independence Day. It's hard to believe we're already half way through the summer.

Work continues on the Old Highway 141 and the Gravois Road bridge projects, although not at the pace we would like. Until the river goes down, the crews are working on parts of the projects that are not dependent on the river levels. Hopefully, the weather will start to cooperate, and we can get back on schedule soon.

Nothing new to report on the Chrysler site. The buildings are gone, and the cleanup is underway. Capstone and NAI Desco have put a new marketing plan in place that will hopefully lead to a buyer for at least part of the site soon. We'll let you know when we have some news to share.

As many of you know, my daughter Whitney was born with a disorder called Rett Syndrome. Basically, it is a neurological condition that causes a severe slowdown in a person's mental and physical development. Researchers believe it is caused by a mutation of a specific gene, but they are a long way from finding a cure.

The condition affects females only, and is very rare. It manifests itself in an estimated 1 out of every 10,000 – 15,000 female births. It was first written about in English language medical journals in 1985.

One of the big questions that the parent of a Rett's girl has is what is the life expectancy? Since there isn't a lot of good data to study, the answer isn't clear. Some girls die at a very young age, and some are well into their 40's. Whitney is 31.

A few weeks ago we received the phone call we've been dreading for a long time. Whitney's physical condition is deteriorating, and we made the heart-breaking decision to enroll her in a hospice program.

Hospice is something Chris and I are familiar with. We hospiced both her parents at our home. And we both know what the end result will be – it's simply a matter of when.

I'm not sharing this with you to get sympathy. But I hope you can learn from our experience that each day with your loved ones is precious – because you don't know how many more you will have with them. And while our kids can sometimes do things that exasperate us, they are the most precious things we can ever hope to have in our lives.

It's at times like this when we turn to our friends and family members for strength. I ask that you please keep us in your prayers as we go through this difficult time. And take every opportunity you have to tell your children that you love them.

Mayor Dennis Hancock

MOSQUITO CONTROL

Here are some ways to reduce the mosquito population this summer:

- Eliminate standing water sites where mosquitoes can breed.
- Clean out clogged rain gutters and downspouts so they won't hold water.
- Empty, clean and refill birdbaths on a weekly basis.
- If you have a pool, make sure the cover isn't holding water and breeding mosquitoes.
- Keep in mind that mosquitoes rest in vegetation and other protected places; keep the grass cut and bushes trimmed.
